Report of Harmony Overtures Turns Antis' Dinner Into a Bedlam.

CHARGES OF TREACHERY

Peace Can Never Come With McCarren In.

The festive frivols of the wild steer that got into the glassware weren't a to what happened at an early hour to-day, when news reached the dinner of the anti-McCarrenites that "Long Pat" wented to extend the olive

Her in the evening, after the annual dinner of the Kings County Democratic Club, the anti-McCavren wing of the organization, began at the Assembly, Fulton and Pierrepont streets, the or chestra was cheered when it ulayed "Tammany."

But when some one came in with the bilthesome tidings that McCarren was willing to sue for peace, and John D. Delaney, chairman, told the thousand present about it, pandemonium broke loose, and there were cries of "Treachery!" on all sides. Apparently there was a general belief that it was a Tammany scheme.

There was nothing before the assem blage except an unofficial report that the McCarren men had appointed a committee of five to try to bring about harmony between the two factions, but ex-Warden Patrick Hayes offered a motion to submit whatever proposals were made to the Executive Committee of the anti-McCarren branch.

"A Drunken Riot."

This is what caused the trouble. Many of those present have been fighting McCarren tooth and nail for years, and feel that they have got things in shape

George M. Curtis, of the Eighth Assembly district, jumped on a chair, and offering an amendment to the motion, roundly denounced McCarren and declared that nothing would suffice but the Brooklyn leader's withdrawal from poli-

Bird S. Coler also delivered a scathing talk against McCarren, and denounced any condition or circumstance that would make treating with McCarren possible or expedient. Finally he walked out of the meeting before it was over.

By this time men were on chairs, ta-bles, and in the middle of the floor, waving their hands excitedly, turning over glassware and all trying to talk at once, and many assuming a belligerent attitude. Delaney tried to calm the storm by refusing to recognize any one, but his efforts were not very successful. and finally he is alleged to have shouted:

"Gentlemen, this is getting to be a riot-a drunken riot.'

Finally the Hayes motion was carried and things calmed down, but it seemed plain that there will be no peace as long as McCarren is at the head of the or ganization.

The Olive Branch.

All this happened within a few blocks of Thomas Jefferson Hall, where a short time before Senator McCarren and the County Committee made their move toward harmony by adopting this resolution, offered by Senator McCarren: "Resolved, that a committee of five be appointed by the Chairman of this organization to receive any committee from any body or organization that is desirous of promoting the success of our party and producing harmonious action among the Democrats of Kings County."

The resolution was adopted unanimously. Chairman Beil appointed this committee: Thomas F. Wogan, of the Seventh Assembly District, Thomas R. Farrell, of the Tenth; Owen J. Murphy, of the Eleventh, and Henry Hesterberg, of the Eleventh, and Henry Hesterberg, of the Eighteenth. Farrell and Byrnes are the anti-McCarrenites on the committee. Senator McCarren was not made a member at als own request.

The anti-McCarren branch of the Kings County Democratic General Committee re-elected George V. S. Williams chairman, and these other officers were chosen; Vice-Chairmen, Francis D. Thorne and Mitchell May; treasurer, Michael Bloom; secretaries, Herman Lehman and Thomas Horgan. appointed by the Chairman of this or-

"MAJOR" CURTIS DEAD.

"Major" Curtis, who had been stayng at the Bellevue Hotel, No. 340 ing at the Bellevue Hotel, No. 340 Bowery, off and on, for ten years, was taken with a violent fit of coughing at 9 P. M. yesterday and died.

According to patrons of the Bellevue, the Major was about seventy-four years old, a civil war veteran, and lived at one time in a soldiers' home in Maine. He never talked much about himself, and his friends thought he did not register at the hotel in his right name. It was understood that he had a daughter in this city. His body was taken to the Morgue.

How to Reduce Fat Proportionately

Proportion is the thing. They resented this and a fight followed. Patrolman Manning and Bicycle Policeman Brennan came to the help of MoEntee, and five of the students were arrested. The policemen used their night sticks and three of the students appeared in court with bruises, and one who gave his name as "Chick" Gordon, of Hartley Hall, Columbia, had his nose broken. The others gave their names as Herbert Parker, Henry Weiher, Edward Taylor and Robert Swertwell, and all were discharged.

It's "GUESS" by name and guess by nature.

Further than that, it's about the jolliest, most interesting and instructive game that he ingenuity of man has ever contrived-just the thing for winter evenings. Be sure and play it to-night.

RULES:

Provide each contestant with a copy of The World Almanac and Encyclopedia for 1909, of which 200,000 copies have been distributed during the last two weeks. In this "Wonderful Book About Wonderful Things" you will find more than 15,000 facts and figures bearing on names, dates, persons, places, weights, measures, records, areas, populations, exports, imports, duties, immigration, politics, and, in fact, nearly everything under the sun that one ought to know.

Turn to the index of this greatest of all Ready Reference Books and decide upon some one of the hundreds of topics referred to there as the special field of knowledge to be investigated. Let each person study the information presented under this particular caption for, say, five minutes.

Now, let everybody place their copy of The World Almanac for 1909 before them, closed, of course, and:

FIRST-Let each contestant write a short essay upon the subject in question, limited in length to about 200 words. Or:

SECOND-Appoint one of the party as QUESTIONER, who will ask 50 or 100 questions, the answers of which will, of course, be found in The World Almanac. Score should be kept and prizes awarded according to the best records made.

The game of "GUESS" is as fascinating as it is instructive. Try it after dinner to-night. Invite your friends in. Better still, get up a "GUESS" party and make a "hit."

The World Almanac and Encyclopedia for 1909, a volume of 880 pages, has just been placed on sale. It is strictly up-to-date, containing records and events of 1908, as well as for years gone by.
